LITTLE ROUND MILFOIL SUMMARY

Here is a summary of what has been done to date in Little Round.

5 acres of EWM were chemically treated in late June. A post-treatment survey was conducted July 21 and the treatment appeared to be successful in most areas.

On Aug. 28 we had six divers and 2 pontoon boats and we handpulled several areas in little round. We focused on the west shoreline along where the little beach is and the area from just west of Kiefers resort and out in front of the resort. These were the areas which were originally planned for hand pulling and we cleaned these areas out pretty well. Everything else had been chemically treated.

I have subsequently just received some additional GPS coordinates for some suspected areas of EWM that aren't on the original maps. I will be getting out most likely this week to confirm these areas and then provide an updated map. I am also planning on doing a small scale chemical treatment in little Round early this fall to "mop" up some areas that I think could use some more treatment to make sure it is knocked back.
